Address all orders and remittances to C. A. PIERCE, Publisher, Bennington, Vt.

The time of holding the Republican State Convention to name the delegates to represent Vermont in the National Convention is now but a few days more than one month away. We have already published the names of several gentlemen, including that of Mr. C. A. Pierce, who have been prominently mentioned for positions upon the delegation. We notice that others are also being mentioned, and we are glad to see that the people are so interested in the cause.

Two notable events have occurred this week, to which we have but a small space to allude today. The first of these is the death of George H. Perkins, the inventor of the engine which bears his name. Mr. Perkins was a native of Bennington, and his death is a great loss to the community.

Referring to the speech made at Col. Graskill and John D. Spelman for their withdrawal from the Democratic ticket, the Herald remarks: "As this nation grows older, the number who resort to vituperation, even in the most exciting stage of a political campaign, grows relatively smaller. The people are not so easily misled as they were in the past, and they are more likely to be guided by reason and common sense."

The speech of Col. Hooker on taking the chair at the late Republican convention in Montpelier, strikes a key-note which reverberates in the breast of every loyal Republican. He said: "I glory in the fact that I am a Republican. I am a Republican because I believe in the principles of Republicanism as they have been enunciated in the platform of the party from the days of George Washington to the present day. I believe in the principles of Republicanism as they have been enunciated in the platform of the party from the days of George Washington to the present day."

The proposed iron street improvement in New York City provokes a good deal of discussion in regard to the principles on which public improvements of this character should be made. The property owners to be benefited by this improvement will be required to pay one-half of the cost paid by the city and the rest assessed on the property owners. This is a fair and equitable plan, and it is to be expected that so radical a change as this in the matter of determining who shall pay for a public improvement will be made in a manner that will be satisfactory to all.

The old way of appraising the damages and then, after the improvement is made, assessing the benefited owners according to the value of the property, is a very unfair and inequitable method. It is a method which has been used for many years, and it has always been found to be a source of great dissatisfaction to the property owners. It is a method which is based on the principle of "pay as you go," and it is a method which is based on the principle of "pay as you get."

The Commercial Club of Providence, at their regular monthly meeting recently held at their guests the Hon. Wm. V. Cropp of Massachusetts, and Representatives W. P. C. Breckinridge of Kentucky and J. Q. Mills of Texas. The latter is, as our readers well know, the Chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means of the National House of Representatives.

Mr. Mills in addressing the Club, according to the Boston Journal, said that one reason why we can pay higher for our labor than Europe is because "we turn out more manufacturers to the market than they do." He also said that the investigation of James Thorley, one of the manufacturers of Rhode Island, had shown that the cost of producing goods in Rhode Island was less than in any other State in the Union.

The President makes no suggestion of any change in the tariff. He simply says that the tariff is a subject which is being considered by the Congress, and that he will support whatever measure is passed by the Congress. He also says that he will support whatever measure is passed by the Congress.

SKIN SCALP BLOOD

Having been a sufferer for two years and a half from a disease caused by a burn on the leg, and having been cured by the Cuticura Remedies when all other means had failed, I feel it my duty to recommend them. I visited Hot Springs to avail myself of the mineral waters, and at last my principal doctor, Dr. J. P. Pliny, gave me the Cuticura Remedies, and I have been cured. I feel it my duty to recommend them to all who are suffering from skin diseases.
